UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT-IN BANKRUPTCY. Important Decision with Respect to Regis-ters' Fees-A Register's Bill of Costs "Cut

In the Matter of J. H. Rebinson,-The Register's bill bankrupt objected to items of the bill, amounting to $57 50, and the Register allowed the objections to three $57.50, and the Register allowed the objections to three of the items, amounting to $16, to be good, and disallowed the objections to the rest of the items, amounting to $41.50. Judge Blatchford takes up these objections and disposes of these one by one, allowing some and disalowing others. His opinion concludes:—"The result is that the items objected to, amounting to $41.50, are allowed at 26 45." This makes the whole bit foot up $44. In this bill are included some exceptional items for services not performed in the usual course of the proceedings, amounting to $18, which reduces the amount of an orderry bill to $18, which reduces the amount of an orderry bill to $28, inclusive of the fee for certified copy of schedule for assignes, which in this case was $4.65. The decaisin will probably be regarded as fixing the erdinary force of Register taxable in this district at about $30, exclusive of fee for copy of schedules for assignes. This case was brought before the notice of the court by Mr. F. C. Nye, counsel for the bankrupt, and the decision of the Judge will be regarded with interest by all woo may have anything to do with bankruptey proceedings.

REAL ESTATE MATTERS.

Heavy Operations Yesterday-More Room

The announcement of the numerous sales advertised to take place yesterday at the Exchange Salesroom drew together quite a large crowd, many of whom were attracted no doubt by the anticipated continued sale of the Beckman leases, the introduction of these into the market having from many and various causes created quite flutter among real estate dealers. The nature, character and several advantages and disadvantages of these leases as an investment were so fully stated here yesterday that it would be only repetition to say anything further concerning them in this regard now. Pending the hour for resuming the sale the prices that ruled the previous day formed the subject of discussion with numerou groups, and whispers of advances obtained or groups, and whispers of advances obtained or offered were exchanged by more than one couple. In this way it was learned that the lease of the lot corner of Third avenue and Sixty-third street (ground rent $1,000), which was purchased by C. W. Kearney for $610, was resold by him at an advance of $1,000. Those, however, who came with a view to speculation in the remaining leases to be sold were disappointed in their expectation, as instead of a resumption of the sale, pursuant to adjournment, it was announced by the auctioneer, upon his arrival, that its further continuance was indefinitely postponed. Other inducements, however, sufficient each to have furnished a primary cause for their attendance, were yesterday offered the capitalist, speculator and agent at the Real Estate Exchange, there being three sales besides that of the leases announced for noon in this room a circumstance no doubt wonderfully satisfactory to those who delight to see new evidences of our business enterprise and activity, but very trying, one would think, when regarding the dimensions of the mart, to those having the conduct of each sale and to the audience. In truth, the room where those intergated in real estate "most do congregate" at present is far inadequate to the purposes for which at was hired, being much too small for the proper and agreeable management of more than one sale at a time. It is satisfactory, however, to know that its continued use, as at present, is limited, the last Legislature having grunted a charter and act of incorporation to a number of gentlemen in this city interested in the result to erect upon a suitable site an auction mart adapted to the needs of our business men, and it being their intention to proceed at an early day with the work. A very Eabel of noises dulled the ears of those assembled while each sale was simuitaneously going on, a reasonable condition of affairs being reached only when one had survived offered were exchanged by more than one couple.

BROOKLYN REAL ESTATE.

Yesterday was one of the busiest days in transactions in Brooklyn real estate "within the recollection of the oldest inhabitants," and in respect to the prices realized a most noticeable one. The best sales were those made at the city salesroom by J. Cole, who was favored by a congregation of capitalists, comprising many belonging to this city, who in their eagerness to secure some of the lots offered sent them kiting to the extent that prices were obtained far in advance of even what was hoped for, much less expected. [From the Evening Telegram of yesterday.]

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 12, 1868.

The Dominion Telegraph Company was organized last week, with headquarters at feronto, in opposition to the Montreal Telegraph Company. Lines are immediately to be crected to all business points. Contracts for the poies are given out. The lines will connect on the United States side with the wires of the Atlantic and Pacific Company, in opposition too Western Union lines.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

Gold has been steady and moderately active to day, on a slightly lower basis than during the persions part of the week, the fluctuations having been from 141½ to 141½, with the closing transactions prior to the adjournment of the board at 141½, following which the quotation advanced to 141½ a 141½. There was a rather active borrowing demand for coins, but the supply was largely in excess of it, and loans were made at rates varying from three te my percent for carrying. The gross elearnings amounted to $85,004,000, the gold balances to $2,350,000 and the currency balances to $3,500,500. The steamer Siberia took cout $91,050 to $3,000,000. The steamer Siberia took cout $91,050 to $300,000 to $400,000 to $40 Gold has been steady and moderately active to day, or slightly lower basis than during the previous part of involves a direct inflation of the currency so as to bring the maximum of greenbacks up to four hundred millions. The precedent thus established would be a dangerous one, which should be guarded against. With respect to the substitution of United States notes for compound interest legal tender notes and three per cent legal tender certificates the case is entirely different. It would not be inflation, but simply non-contraction, to to the spirit of the anti-contraction law.

The stock market was en the whole steady until late in the afternoon, when it became very strong, Erie advancing to 76% and New York Central to 133%, under an active demand for all the leading railway shares and even more attention than usual, owing to its exceptionally prosent by the street. An impression provails that the speculative director is "short" of the stock; but this will probably be discovered to be erroneous, the object of that model railway manager being to mystify the public as much as possible; but whether he is Fither New York Central, Hudson River and Harlem are selling much above their real value or Erie is much below it, and it is impossible that the wide difference between them now existing can remain much longer unadjusted. Whether the one falls or the other rises is not a matter of much consequence outside of Wall street; but the inconsistency is something for appendators to reflect upon. The monetary facilities at the disposal of the Stock Exchange are on the increase, but there is no change to record in the rates for call loans. Four per cent is the rule on government securitios and five on mixed collaterate, while first class com-mercial paper is bought at 5 a 6 per cent discount. This picthora of capitat, in view of the datases of trade, will probably be tong continued, and the effect in eliminating speculation in stocks can hardly be overestimated. It is stated that the Senate Finance Committee have agreed to report favorably upon the House bill providing that no public fify miles of any place where there is a Sub-Treasury. but that the banks are strongly opposed to it. This last is not surprising, but there is nevertholess no good reason why the funds of the government should be held by the banks free of interest. In this city there are only about two millions held by the depositaries, and no monetary disturbance would therefore arise from the not be unmindful of possible dishonesty among its revenue collectors and disbursing officers in providing for the deposit of the public moneys in the sub-treaseuries only, and it is questionable whether banks can be antirely dispensed with, except in the cities where sub-treasuries are situated.
